The Prince Is Coming.
Don't Speak First.
No Roman Free Wheat.

By Arthur Brisbane

(Written Thursday, Aug. 7, 1919.)

The Prince of Wales is coming, he has sailed, and soon there will be demonstrations by those that think it was a mistake, on the whole, to get rid of English royalty in 1776. Already energetic society mothers, advertising their daughters to make up for good looks, have hinted discreetly to the society reporter that the daughter may bring the two great English-speaking nations closer together. Little do they know what a shiver that would give to good Queen Mary.

Frank A. Munsey, who understands royalty instinctively as the Baltimore Oriole understands weaving, publishes in his New York Sun hints and cautions that will be of great value to us all: You must always say "Sir" to the Prince, and "Ma'am" to his mother if you ever meet her. You must keep your hat off and speak when you are spoken to. Answer any question, always ending up with "Sir." Then stop and wait your next chance. Don't, above all things, introduce the Prince to anybody. Never say, "Prince, shake hands with Mr. Smith, one of our leading hardware men." The Prince or his query will let you know if he wants to meet the hardware man. It is not for you to drag in your friends or relations.

One thing important, never let it out of your mind. If the Prince calls where you are visiting, get up, get your hat and get out. Just say: "Well, I must be going." For, indeed, you must. It is etiquette to make yourself scarce when royalty calls.

This dates back to days when royal gentlemen went around calling a little indiscriminately on ladies, and not always, as the French say, pour la bon motif.

When the royal gentleman called on the lady, other men were expected to make themselves scarce. And it often paid. Many a noble family in Europe can trace its titles and estates back to such a royal visit.

Of course, all this is ended now, but the form persists.

And if you invite the Prince to dine with you, send him in advance a list of the guests that you intend to ask. He will strike out any names that do not suit, and perhaps write in a few, and you must be pleased. For further details, write to Frank A. Munsey, New York Sun. There is a lot more to learn, before you appear, with democratic gooselish and trembling, before the good-natured young man who has accepted President Wilson's invitation to the White House. His mother and father were most polite to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, having them sleep right in the palace, and this country will be polite to their boy, who behaved himself well and bravely in the war.

England is going at the high cost of living with English thoroughness and political courage. French and English statesmen are not afraid to go where logic and necessity lead. Great Britain will regulate prices drastically, as France is doing, not only prices of food, but of other necessities. Already 94 per cent of food in England is sold at a maximum price, controlled by the government.

The president is said to oppose the plan to cut down the price of wheat. The idea was to go on paying farmers a high price to keep them happy, at the polls and elsewhere, and sell to the public for much less than the price paid to farmers, letting government—that is to say, taxpayers—carry the load. That would be half-way imitation of the free distribution of bread and grain in ancient Rome. It did not work out well there. For when the people got free bread, they wanted and got other things—free circus, free gladiators. It would be embarrassing for the president to suggest that Dempsey be retained at public expense to charm the masses. He knows all about history; in fact, he wrote it, and he stops short at the almost free wheat suggestion. You cannot solve problems by giving away anything, except opportunity. History proves it.

Japan says he will give up Shanghai, sometime. But when? When will the wind be a-weary of blowing, when will the stream be a-weary of flowing? At that time Japan will give up her huge slice of China and forty million Chinese. In Germany it was a race between revolution and cur flying machines. A revolution won without much competition, judging by the aviation investigation. In Asia the race will be between Chinese enlightenment and Japanese domination. Japan will keep Shan-

Three Killed in Home Tragedy

CINCINNATI, Aug. 13.—Charles Gruener, 42 years old, a gardener, shot and killed his wife Flora, fatally wounded his stepson Noble Thieman and then shot and killed himself here early today.

Gruener who had been living apart from his wife sought her at her home on Chase avenue today.

A little boy in the neighborhood was the only one who heard the shots and it was not until the lad gave the alarm that neighbors investigated. They found the bodies of the husband and wife lying on the floor of the second story bedroom and Noble Thieman who is 22 years old apparently in the throes of death writhing on the dining room floor below.

MAN FROM OHIO IS FAILURE IN HOLD UP THEN SHOOTSELF

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, August 13.—A hold-up man, entering the banking room of the Munsey Trust company in the heart of the Pennsylvania avenue section today, pointed two pistols at a teller, demanded $150, 400, and then after firing one shot at a clerk, turned a pistol on himself. He shot himself in the jaw and was taken to a hospital.

Two money orders, issued at Defiance and Toledo, Ohio, were found in the hold-up man's clothing. When he demanded the money, the teller first making a show of counting bills, then dropped behind his counter as the robber fired a bullet that pierced the coat of a clerk nearby. The bullet the robber intended for himself went through his jaw and then shattered a plate glass window. The scene of the attempted robbery was within five hundred feet of police headquarters.

The man told the police his name was John E. Fetzer, of 116 East street, Defiance, and that his uncle, Charles R. Fetzer, at the same address, could tell "why he could not go ahead." The man is a mechanic, 34 years old. He came today from New York.

The man told the police he picked out Washington because he understood there was plenty of money in the capital and that a hold-up was easy. The hospital physicians said he probably would recover. He said he previously had been in a Detroit hospital suffering from an electric shock.

DEFIANCE, Ohio, August 13.—Chief of Police Harper, of Defiance, said today that John E. Fetzer lived at Defiance for several years, that he bore a good reputation, was never arrested and that his father, Charles R. Fetzer, lives at 116 East street. Chief Harper did not know an uncle named Charles R. Fetzer.

PRISONER RETAKEN

WARRREN, O., Aug. 13.—Charles Alexander, ring-leader of the gang of five prisoners who escaped from the Trumbull county jail here last Thursday was back in jail again today following his capture yesterday at his home in Greensburg by the sheriff of Summit county. Alexander is charged with horse stealing.

DOG SAVES LIVES

TOLEDO, Aug. 12.—Martin L. Heisey and his wife, keepers of the pavilion in Walbridge park here, were called by persons who thought when fire destroyed the building early this morning.

They made their way to the roof and were rescued by policemen who were called by persons who thought a murder had been committed.

The loss is $17,000. The building was owned by the city.

Wing and historians will record that it was a good thing for western civilization. In all but organization and aggressiveness of politically enslaved Chinese, a gigantic Alsace-Lorraine problem in Asia, will mean that China may save this country the trouble of keeping Japan in bounds. ATTORNEY GENERAL SAYS LIVING COSTS REDUCED ALREADY BY U. S. ACTION

Government Would Increase Secret Service Force to Aid in Ferreting Out Violators

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—President Wilson and Secretary Glass have formally appealed to congress for authority and funds to use the Secret Service Corps of the Treasury department in running down food hoarders and profiteers.

The request was transmitted in a letter from Secretary Glass, approved by the president, to Speaker F. H. Gillett.

The communication urged that congress lose no time in granting permission and providing the necessary funds for the use of the treasury agents. An emergency appropriation of $175,000 was recommended.

Speaker Gillett referred the secretary's letter to the appropriation committee, which is expected to take up the matter immediately.

Developments Are Outlined
Other developments in connection with the government's efforts against the high cost of living were:

1. Federal Trade commission asked congress for an emergency appropriation of $500,000 to carry on its investigations of the cost of production, storage and distribution and manufacturers' wholesalers' and retailers' prices of food products.

2. Following a discussion of the situation by the Cabinet, Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer expressed himself as being much pleased with the turn of events. He said prices were being reduced.

3. A joint resolution was introduced in the house by Representative Wells Goodykoontz, West Virginia, calling upon the judiciary committee to report out at once, without further investigation, bills which, in its judgment, will enable the government to reach profiteers, "whether or not producers, wholesalers, jobbers or retailers."

Gard Offers Bill
4. Introduction of a bill by Representative Warren Gard, Ohio, proposing government control over all "necessities" in interstate commerce.

5. Senator Kenneth McKeller, Tennessee charged before the House Agriculture committee that the "Big Five" group of packers are in complete control of the cold storage business of the country.

6. Representative Simeon D. Fess, Ohio, chairman of the republican congressional committee, in a speech presented a definite program which he declared the government should follow in its campaign to effect relief from the high cost of living. Some of the specific items included in the Fess program are in sharp contrast with the recommendations of President Wilson.

Need More Funds

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 13.—The state board of agriculture wants additional funds to enable its bureau of markets to assist more effectively in investigation of the causes of high food prices. It decided yesterday to ask the state emergency board for an allowance until the legislative session in December.

The bureau now is limited to V. H. Davis, the director; Thomas Phillips, assistant and another assistant paid by the federal government.

N. E. Shaw, secretary of agriculture, was re-elected to a two year term.

EX-KAISER'S YACHT, REEKING WITH FILTH, IS LYING IN THAMES

LONDON, August 13.—A sorry symbol of the Hohenzollern crash—the ex-kaiser's yacht, the Meteor—is now lying in the Thames. It was brought to England last month by an escort of British destroyers.

Gone is her glamour. Her brass is green with neglect. Her paint is flaking off. She's nothing but a dirty white vessel with a flanged funnel. Her decks are unclean and the cabins are in a filthy state of neglect.

The dining saloon, where "Der Tag" was probably toasted with many toasts, is faded and shabby, as is the concert room, which once echoed to the strains of "Deutschland Uber Alles."

The state cabin of the "all high-est" is simply a rubbish dump.

PERFECT SCHOOL RECORD.

Myron Hartley, who was graduated recently from the Waukon, Ia., high school, was never absent or tardy once at school during 13 years.

PLUMB CHARGES CORRUPT RAILWAY MANAGEMENT

WASHINGTON, August 13.—The railroad brotherhoods through their counsel, Glenn E. Plumb, laid before the house interstate commerce committee their charges of corruption in the management of the railroads under private control.

The charges, announced as forthcoming a week ago, were that many of the great railway systems had been plundered systematically by the financial interests and that the railroads illegally held millions of acres of public lands.

Eighteen representative railroads of the country, the brotherhood attorney asserted, issued stock aggregating $450,414,000 between 1800 and 1910, as bonuses, and paid millions of dollars in dividends on these bonuses. These same railroads, he further charged, were controlled in whole or in part by the Morgan, Rockefeller and the Gould interests.

Coupled with the charges, which came just before the bonus committee closed its hearings on organized labor's bill for elimination of private capital from railroad ownership, was the demand by Mr. Plumb that congress make a thorough investigation of the matter so that "the American people may know to what extent it is sought to subject them to exploitation" under the plans proposed for future disposition of the railroads.

There was no intimation as to what course the committee might take in regard to the request for an investigation. Chairman Esch, in a dozen questions, indicated that to go into the charges would be like traveling over old ground, as they had been threshed out long ago.

Plumb told the committee that he either had the evidence to support every charge or knew where it could be obtained.

Presentation of the charges apparently failed to arouse much interest among members, as no one, except among members, as no one, except examination of the witness.

BOND ISSUES ENDORSED IN MANY OHIO CITIES AT PRIMARIES WITH A LIGHT VOTE CAST EVERYWHERE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)

COLUMBUS, August 13.—Overwhelming majorities in favor of bond issues and the two mills tax levy for school purposes were outstanding features of yesterday's elections held in cities throughout Ohio.

Reports are that the vote was light. Apathy, shown by voters with few exceptions in cities where bond issues or other civic questions were not to be decided at the polls, indicated that these problems transcended in importance the selection of party nominees.

In Columbus the voters were called upon to decide whether the street railway was to be given the right to increase fares. Citizens rejected the proposal overwhelmingly, together with a grade crossing bond issue. The school bond issue and extra tax levy carried. Scott Wehe, president of the shopmen of the Pennsylvania shops, was nominated for councilman.

For the first time in Zanesville history a woman was chosen a nominee when Miss Kate Buchanan, republican, was picked as the party's choice for the board of elections.

Socialists apparently made no impression on the outcome of the election in any of the primaries. In Springfield the socialists were entirely eliminated from the city commission race.

Successful candidates for nomination for mayor and other results of yesterday's primary follow:

Akron—Five of seven bond issues carried. Mayoralty results in doubt. Alliance—Charles S. Wetmore, republican, and Thomas S. H. Nichols, democrat. School levy carried.

Bellefontaine—Thomas W. Shea, republican, and Frank Dowell, democrat.

Cleveland—$4,000,000 school bond issue and tax levy carried. Canton—$1,280,000 water improvement bond issue carried. Henry Schrantz, republican and H. R. Wittie, democrat.

Cincinnati—Improvement bond issues totalling $3,788,000 carried. Chillicothe—Mayor W. S. Story, republican, and former Mayor James A. Cahill, democrat.

Mansfield—Mayor H. C. Brunner, democrat, and George H. Lowry, republican.

AKRON VOTES FIVE TO ONE AGAINST HIGHER CAR FARE

AKRON, Aug. 13.—An echo of the recent six cent car fare fight was heard in yesterday's primaries when Councilman Henry J. Berrodin defeated Mayor I. S. Myers for the democratic nomination for mayor by 539 votes. The vote was Berrodin 2371, Myers 1822. Berrodin drew his support from opponents of the fare ordinance which was defeated 5 to 1 at a referendum election. Ex-Mayor W. J. Laub had no opposition for the republican nomination.

SHOPMEN IN SOUTH BACK ON THE JOB

Normal Conditions Thruout Country are Expected Within a Week.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)

CHICAGO, August 13.—Calling off of the federated railway shopmen's strike in the Atlanta, Ga., district caused railroad officials today to predict that the entire rail system of the country would be operating at normal within a week.

Reports from various parts of the country today showed that striking shopmen were returning to work pending settlement of their wage demands. In the Chicago district, however, there was no break in the ranks of the strikers.

Officers of the Chicago district council who called the strike against orders of the international officers, claimed today they had been successful in breaking up meetings held by international leaders who sought to induce the men to return to work pending a settlement of the dispute. A number of trains which were cancelled several days ago on account of the strike on railroads centering here, were restored today.

LEXINGTON, Ky., August 13.—The C. & O. shops state that all of the striking shopmen, except seven boiler makers who walked out a week ago in accord with the general strike of the federated shopmen returned to work at 7 o'clock this morning.

It is not known when the boiler-makers will be given orders to take up their tools again. They are affiliated with the Huntington, W. Va., union, and feel that they cannot resume work until some official action is taken by that organization.

Simultaneously with the return of the striking shopmen to their duties, fires were lighted under the boilers of freight engines, as preparation for starting out freights today. It was stated at the company's round house that before the day is over it was expected that all freight trains on this division would be running.

WANT $1 AN HOUR.

NEW YORK, August 13.—Interior decorating, essential to the renovation of hundreds of apartments preparatory to October leasing, came to a standstill today by the strike of 14,000 painters, decorators and paper hangers.

The workers demand a five day working week of 40 hours with a wage of $1 an hour. They have been receiving $6 a day for a 44-hour week.

CHICAGO THEATERS "DARK" AS ACTORS GO UPON STRIKE

CHICAGO, August 13.—Many Chicago theatres may be "dark" tonight as the result of a meeting of actors early this morning, at which it was decided a strike started last night and which resulted in the closing of the Cort and Cohan's Grand theatres should be extended to other houses today in sympathy with the striking actors in New York.

The closing of the Cort and Cohan's followed the arrival from New York of Francis Wilson, president of the Equity Association of Actors and Artists. As soon as he had communicated with members of the association in the caste at the two play houses the principals gave notice to the managers that they would not appear in the night performance.

INQUIRY ORDERED IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, Ohio, August 13.—Vernon Davis, head of the Market Bureau, was directed by the United States Grain Corporation to investigate the wholesale and retail bread and flour prices in all the leading cities. The figures obtained probably will be the basis for action later.

Y.M.C.A. LABOR DAY PROGRAM IS TO BE EXTENSIVE AFFAIR

At a meeting on Tuesday night, of all the service committees of the industries at the Y. M. C. A. presided over by S. C. Biddle, industrial secretary, it was decided to make the Labor Day celebration, picnic and field day an afternoon and evening affair. Everybody living in Lima, or near Lima, will be invited, gathering at Paulot park at 1 o'clock and the festivities and program will begin soon after that time, as may be arranged by the program committee.

It was decided at the meeting Tuesday evening that each plant should appoint one man to act on an executive committee with Biddle, to arrange for the general program and etc.

At meeting the following factories had a representative, one or more present: Solar Refining Co., Lake Erie and Western Ry., B. & O. Ry., Steiner Brothers, Chalmers Mfg. Co., Ohio Steel Co., Garford Truck Co., and Buckeye Mfg. Co.

Among items on the tentative program the following contests were mentioned and this will be added to largely at the next meeting of the committee on Monday night the 18th, when every factory is expected to have their committees out in full force.

Relay races, pie eating contest, wheelbarrow, fat man races, boys races, walking races, ladies running race and wheelbarrow races, three-legged race, sack race, egg race, tug of war, girls race, hand walking, ladies will indulge in several contests, ball throwing, valing pin throwing, threading needle, nail driving and others.

Free lemonade will probably be on tap for the afternoon and evening. The Garford Truck Co. band is expected to furnish their delightful music which has so pleased the crowds at the industrial ball games a general sing at twilight will probably close the feature of the afternoon, and send everybody home tired, but happy.

Myers farm in a buggy with his nephew, Mr. Bates, who left him at the Edwards home and went on to Sunday school. Sanders complained of a pain in his chest and laid down under a tree for a while. Soon after he got up and coming to the house he dropped dead in the doorway.

HIGH COST MEATS LAID TO WEATHER BY LIMA DEALERS

Lima butchers blame the high cost of meat partly on the weather, man partly on the law of supply and demand and partly on the tendency of the American people to want nothing but the best. A round of local butchers revealed the fact that the cheaper cuts of meats go begging, and the demand is for the choice parts of the beef or hog.

During the summer months the housewives want something that they can fry quickly and avoid the necessity of having a fire for several hours during the hot days. Consequently the demand for meat to fry takes a jump, and the butchers are left with the cheaper cuts which would ordinarily go for boiling meat, to dispose of at reduced prices.

Many persons want only the small pork chops which come in the middle of the rib, according to butchers they are forced to lower the price on the larger pork chops in order to dispose of them. That raises the price of the fancy cuts.

Pork and all products will continue to be high, butchers say for the simple reason that they do not receive any money for the skin of a pig. Beef and veal are not as high as otherwise might be the case, because of the prevailing high prices received for hides. A packer gets so much for his hides nowadays, that he can afford to let the price down a little, according to their version.

CARNEGIE FUNERAL SET FOR THURSDAY

Messages of condolence continue to arrive in large numbers at Shadowbrook. Hundreds of messages came by telephone or mail, and still others were left at the house by neighbors.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—President Wilson, in a message of condolence sent to Mrs. Carnegie said the death of the philanthropist constituted a serious loss to the forces of humanity. The message read:

"May I not express my deep sympathy at the loss of your distinguished husband? His death constitutes a very serious loss to the forces of humanity and enlightened public service, and takes out of the world a force which it could ill afford to spare."

LORAIN DEFAULTER MAY COME BACK TO FACE CHARGES

LORAIN, O., Aug. 12.—William W. Treble, missing assistant cashier of the City Bank, who is accused by bank officials of having lost more than $100,000 of the bank's funds by stock speculations, is expected by his friends to return here voluntarily to face the charges.

Treble's friends maintain they have been in communication with him since his disappearance more than a week ago and declare that Treble will return to Lorain in a short time.

Bank officials say Treble used the bank's credit, without sanction or authority, to carry out his stock speculating. They also say Treble told them of irregularities in his accounts just previous to his disappearance.

The recent big slump in the stock market is said to have forced Treble to draw on the bank in an attempt to cover his margins.

In the meantime, bank officials and state bank examiners were continuing their auditing of the bank's books to establish exactly how much the shortage is.

SENATORS SEEK A COMPROMISE UPON PEACE TREATY DEAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Its hearings on the peace treaty completed, the senate relations committee turned its attention to Mexican and Colombian questions today, while in the senate also the plan of leaders was to lay aside temporarily the issues of the treaty fight and take up other business.

Meantime, however, there was a revival of interest in the proposal for a definite reservation program along the lines recently agreed on by seven republican senators. In informal discussions among senators, possible acceptance of the program by Senator Lodge, the republican leader, was a central feature of interest. Leaders of the reservation group said they were very hopeful that Mr. Lodge would agree to their plan but the party leader himself had no announcement to make.

Within a few days it is expected there will be a conference of the reservation advocates with Senator Lodge and other republicans. Should a score or more come to an agreement on reservations, it is believed negotiations will begin with democratic leaders with a view to finding a middle ground on which the treaty can be ratified with reservations in the near future. So far, however, the administration forces have shown no sign of abandoning their fight for unreserved ratification.

Echoes of The Election

LIMA VOTERS, or rather a small per cent. of them, turned down all proposals to issue bonds. But this must not be taken as an indication that Lima citizens are not progressive, that they are not willing to spend money to beautify and improve the facilities of the city.

The fact is that the citizens of Lima are thoroughly disgusted with a Republican administration that has been at once the biggest and crudest joke that has ever been perpetrated upon the city of Lima.

Here we have a so called city water reservoir that is full of weeds and rank growths, the dirt piled high and no water. The improvement work on the Ottawa river looks as if it would not survive the completion at the other end of the channel inside the city limits.

Add to this a thousand and one things that the city administration has done or has not done, as the case may be, and you have the reason why voters turned down the bond issues of yesterday.

The vote taken on the municipal ownership of the electric light wires and fixtures on the streets may be taken as a vote of protest against the Ohio Electric Railway Company, which has played football for several years, with Lima as the ball.

The defeat of Republican candidates for council who were mixed up in the late gas petition muddle means nothing more nor less than that Republicans are glad to get a swat at anyone connected with the present administration and particularly those councilmen who signed the now famous petition.

If the people of the city could vote on the present city administration there would be an avalanche of protesting ballots. But inasmuch as the Republican bosses have read the handwriting on the wall and have put up a new ticket they will evidently seek support on the plea that the newcomers have nothing to do with the shortcomings of the present outfit in power.

And there you are! Last time it was "Simpson or Socialism," so we presume this year it will be "Simpson is done, now help us elect another Republican!"

Peace, Prosperity and Prices

PRESIDENT WILSON, in his recent special message to the congress of the United States bearing upon prevailing high costs of living necessities, has interlocked peace, prosperity and prices into a guiding thought that should direct thoughtful statesmen and law abiding citizens in their future course.

He very truly says we are neither at peace nor at war and because of this dominating fact stabilization of business becomes increasingly difficult. From this premises no sane person would dare venture. The president moreover, told congress "there can be no peace prices as long as our whole financial and economic system is on a war basis," emphasizing a point most people have entirely overlooked in their zeal to arrive at a standardization of wages and costs of commodities quickly, and apart from other national problems.

Interesting and significant facts, which in great measure bear out the statements made in practically every community in the United States, are presented by the president; particularly when he declares, "Disregarding the surplus stocks in the hands of the government, there was a greater supply of foodstuffs in the country on June 1 of this year than at the same time last year. In the combined total of a number of the most important facts in dry and cold storage, the excess is 19 per cent."

In the face of these figures prices have continued to climb in the country, reaching exorbitant heights on some commodities. It has actually seemed, and official records disclose, that as the supply of essentials increases in the United States the prices are correspondingly elevated. Thus the time-honored law of supply and demand has been ruthlessly abrogated and ignored—a serious situation when one considers millions are affected by this system of food control.

The investigation of storage of provisions, which was a feature in the probe launched in Ohio under the suggestions of Governor Cox, finds a place in the president's plans for relief. If a time limit were placed on stored essentials and they were marked plainly when placed in storage, the public could easily be kept in touch with the supply and be informed concerning the advances.

Prices which obtain on food products are national in their importance and the character of approach on this subject must be national all the way through. A firm license law controlling interstate shipments, which would in every detail set forth the conditions under which commerce is transported, would go far toward solving a clever trick not infrequently employed in deceiving the buying public.

Vicious practices, continually engaged in have hitherto brought about a troublesome situation in the United States. To quote the president again, "The prices the public of this country is paying for everything that is necessary in order to live are not justified by a shortage in supply, either present or prospective, and are, in many cases, established artificially and deliberately by practices which should be checked immediately by law."

Vast gain in personal wealth at the expense of necessities required to sustain human life is all out of accord with the spirit of America. If men who are in control of these things will not co-operate for the common good, then the strong arm of the law must step in and exercise its right in a decisive and understandable manner.

HAPPY THOUGHT: All the Teutonic authorities excepting Victor Berger and Senator La Follette have now agreed to the peace treaty.

Congress has fixed it so we can still have daylight but that is about all congress has arranged for us to save.

Bela Kun was about the only Austro-Hungarian notable that came to the front in all the long war period whose name we could pronounce, and now he has dropped into the discard.

We intend to write an editorial on the importance of the announcement that the Aland Islands are to retain their neutrality as soon as we can find where the Aland Islands are.

It is now possible to write a letter to Germany but for our part we are not on writing terms with anybody there.

GOOD EVENING—The man who would persist in getting drunk on a one-half per cent drink was a resolute character anyhow.

WHAT TO DO FOR A PERSON SUFFERING FROM GAS POISON

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D. (John Hopkins University)

Gas poisoning is a frequent accident, especially in the large cities and towns where gas is used for illumination purposes. Apparently, innocuous gases, such as carbon dioxide, may cause death, not by their direct action, but by depriving the victim of air because they have replaced it. Gases, like ammonia or chlorine, may quickly produce death from shock and irritation. Deaths occur also from the gas generated by an automobile engine running in a small garage tightly closed on a cold morning.

Firemen are frequently overcome from the effects of smoke and the products of combustion from wood, varnish and other materials in burning buildings.

A gas light should never be turned down low and allowed to burn all night in a room in which persons sleep. The flame may be extinguished by a change in pressure or a slight draft and later the room becomes filled with gas. When you go into burning buildings which are filled with smoke, it is well to tie a cloth wet with water around the nose and mouth. As the air is generally purer near the floor than at the ceiling, a person should, if necessary, walk on the hands and knees or crawl on the floor. When you approach a room full of gas to remove a suffocated person, take several deep breaths of pure air outside and spend as brief a time in the place as possible.

Preliminary signs of gas poison are headache, dizziness, nausea, feeling of sleepiness, and languor and a rapid pulse. In later stages when unconsciousness comes on, the face and hands are blue, heart action is very rapid and weak, and breathing may be shallow or entirely suspended.

The patient should always be immediately moved into the open air. If he is only slightly affected, walk him up and down in the open air.

HE FELT IT "SWELLIN"

A company of negro troopers were engaged in practicing the throwing of hand grenades at their camp in France. For a whole week they had thrown dummy grenades at the targets and on this day were given the real thing. Their captain placed them in their respective positions and explained what they were to do.

"When I give the command, 'one' pull out the pin, at 'two' make ready, and at 'three' throw your bomb and it will do the rest."

Then he issued the commands. At "one" every pin came out with a click. At "two" all the men were ready to throw except one shivering darkey, who hastily threw his grenade at the target. At "three" all the rest threw with a vengeance. Then the captain stepped up to the darkey who had fired away with his grenade at the command "two" and said, "Sam, why did you throw your bomb before I gave the command 'three'? Why didn't you wait for the other order like the rest of the men?"

And Sam replied, "Cap'n I 'pos' couldn't wait! I had to throw 'it' I could feel that thing 'jerk' a swellin' and swellin' in mah hand." Everybody's Magazine.

MIXED THE RITES

An ex-Judge had been elected mayor in a French country district. It soon developed upon him to sanction a marriage ceremony.

"Do you consent to marry: this gentleman, young lady?" he asked amiably.

"Yes," was the reply.

Then, suddenly changing his tone to one of great severity, he said to her proposed husband: "And you, have you nothing to say in your defense?" —Exchange.

and give some effervescent drink, such as soda water or a teaspoonful of baking soda in a glass of water. This will give some relief from nausea.

When the victim is more or less unconscious, but still breathing, sprinkle a few drops of ammonia water on a handkerchief and allow him to take one breath with this held under his nose, once a minute. Rub the arms and legs briskly toward the heart to promote the flow of blood. If the patient is conscious enough to swallow, give him one-half teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia in half a glassful of water.

CHASE AS A SCHOOL TEACHER

Though Salmon P. Chase was doubtless well qualified for the work and secured as a teacher the reverence that enabled him to set his feet in the way of success at the law, he repeatedly expressed his contempt and dislike for the occupation. Only when he had charge of a select school in Washington where he admitted that his condition might be a great deal worse, had he a word to say in favor of the occupation of teaching school.

His first experience was in the district schools of New England and there the custom of "boarding round" seems to have prevailed. In addition to his cash salary the families of the district agreed to board the teacher and he would be successively for a week at a time the boarder of each family. In this position he wrote that his "pleasantest hours are often spent in the school room" for the people among whom he was cast were "almost savage; one or two families alone could pretend to common decency."

But he added that he was not starved for they gave him the best they had. The greatest nutcase and the largest piece of pie was always reserved for the master. "I made shift to live through it," he wrote to a classmate later, but said he would as soon undertake to teach wild Indians as again attempt to "instruct the savages of our enlightened land."

Of his work in the private school in Washington where he had the sons of federal officials and congressmen as pupils, he wrote at the time that he liked his school "as well as I shall ever like any school." He had at that time given the work of teaching a thorough trial under various conditions and come to the conclusion that teaching was not his forte. The thing that irked him in Washington was the esteem in which teachers as a class were held. They were socially rated far lower than in New England, and yet he was not surprised he said, for as a class they were a miserable lot. "I do not associate with them," he wrote, "and though I have been

OUR BED-TIME STORY
FOR TINY TIMES-DEMOCRAT FOLKS

The day for the children's party dawned bright and clear. The morning seemed awfully long to the children at the castle. For the little folks invited it was a short morning. Many of them lived miles away, and they had to get all dressed up to leave right after noon, for the long ride to the castle.

Their fathers arranged among them to take the little folks to the party in large wagons. The men who lived near the ends of the roads around the castle hitched up their wagons and, taking their own children, started down the road, stopping at each house to get the other children. By the time these wagons arrived at the castle they were full of laughing, happy folks.

Jane and Jeanne and Jack were all dressed up, and waiting for the first load to come. The queen and king saw to it that the party was started just as were the big affairs given in their honor.

Jack and the girls were seated on the throne. Jack in the center chair. Boon mind the fact that no chair had been provided for him. Two of the little folks who lived on the castle grounds were attendants. One by one they brought in the guests and very formally introduced them to Jane and Jack and Jeanne. Boon insisted on shaking hands with all of them, too, and when not offering to shake hands, sat up on his hind legs as cute as could be.

Loads and loads of the children came. In an hour the big ball room was just about filled with them. After everybody had come, the three little folks came down from the throne of course and the real party began.

There were all kinds of games. Jack and Jane knew some of the games, of course, for they had played them before with the children. They soon learned the other ones. Then Ladydear and the queen taught them new games that they had played when they were little folks. No one would have thought by the way the queen and Ladydear laughed and played with the children that the queen had seen years and years of anxiety and that Ladydear had spent three years at the battle front during the war nursing wounded soldiers. They really had just as good a time as the children.

After games galore several of the children sang songs and recited pieces which they had learned for school and church doings. Then came the supper. And such a supper.

There was everything that a little boy or a little girl would like to eat. And ordinarily most fathers and mothers wouldn't care about having their little folks eat quite so many fancy things as the children had. Of course, some of the tots at the party were just weeny tiny little folks just about able to walk and talk. They had a table all by themselves and bread and milk to eat with just such cookies and goodies as wouldn't hurt them.

Of course there were favors—something for each little boy and girl to take home. First of all there were caps. These caps were wrapped tightly and to get them out of the packages you had to pull two strings. When you pulled the strings there was a loud snap like a fire-cracker. Haven't you room today to tell you what the other favors were.

Is it Possible to Legislate
Life and Brains?

Swift & Company is primarily an organization of men, not a collection of brick, mortar, and machinery.

Packing Plants, their equipment and usefulness are only outward symbols of the intelligence, life long experience, and right purpose of the men who compose the organization and of those who direct it.

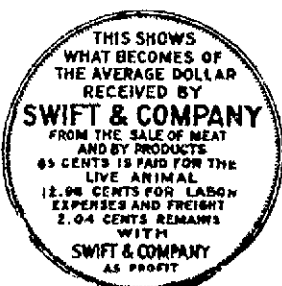

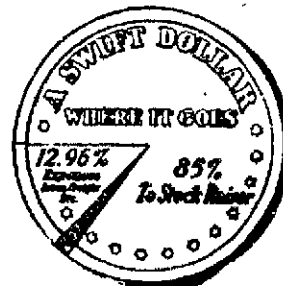

Will not Government direction of the packing industry, now contemplated by Congress, take over the empty husk of physical property and equipment and sacrifice the initiative, experience and devotion of these men, which is the life itself of the industry?

What legislation, what political adroitness could replace such life and brains, once driven out?

FAUROT-DOROTHY GISH

George Fawcett, veteran character actor and once one of the leading producers on New York's great White Way is again cast in a Dorothy Gish picture. Fau friends of the "Little Disturber" will remember Mr. Fawcett as the elder of the three carpenters in D. W. Griffith's "Heart's of the World," and again as the father in Miss Gish's war drama, "The Hun Within." Later he supported the little star in "The Hope Chest."

In the present picture, "I'll Get Him Yet," now in its last day at the Faurot, Mr. Fawcett plays the part of Miss Dorothy's father and has to be the cruel hard-hearted parent who turns down the young lover who comes seeking for his daughter's hand. Mr. Fawcett's numerous admirers will find him in a congenial role of which he makes the most.

Miss Gish is splendidly supported, her leading man being Richard Barthelmess, a player of distinction who has many followers and who has made a great hit in the new Griffith production, "Broken Blossoms." He plays the part of newspaper reporter and it is said his impersonation is one of the most artistic of his career.

The Faurot's program also includes the Pathe News and Mack Sennett's amusing new farce, "No Mother to Guide Him."

CLAIMS HOT DAYS
INCREASE MURDERS

English Writer Says Unstable Nerves of Criminals Break Down

LONDON — When hot weather comes jump into cool clothes, or maybe you'll commit murder.

So says the "medical correspondent" of a London daily paper.

England was recently subjected to a heat wave for a week, and during that period three horrible murders have been committed. Apparently this heat wave gave the medical correspondent a brain wave, and in a rash moment he makes the astounding statement that murder done, in hot weather is not done in cold blood but in hot blood.

The learned gentleman hints darkly at the meaning of the old expression "blood and thunder." We quote a little of this blood-curdling article: "The unstable nervous mechanism of the potential, passionate murderer is at the mercy of the surrounding circumstances. Sudden warmth of atmosphere is just such a circumstance as may prove the last straw which overbalances his tottering equilibrium."

Toward the end of the article the medical correspondent gets positively bright, saying that if, at the mad moment the murderer commits his crime, he could stop and think it over, he wouldn't do it.

"MEET US IN LIMA WEDNESDAY"

By H. E. H.

THERE'S A REASON.

There's a reason just now for old H. C. L.

"It's a toast you and I have often drank to; You'll find it forthwith, in these five fatal words: 'The COST of High Living.' I thank you."

"Imitation," sang Epictetus, or one of those old bards, "is the sincerest form of flattery" with which introduction I would invite you to witness with me a little scene enacted at Lincoln Park last Friday afternoon. The East and Kiddies and their little neighbors and friends were having the time of their lives playing all sorts of games and doing stunts under the direction of Supervisor Jaenbarger and his associate assistants of the Allen County Child Welfare Association. They played ten pins with bottles, ran races, rode the "waves" and played "shop."

It was in this last pastime that the youthful precocity was manifested.

Two little men of probably eight and nine stood behind an improvised counter made by a board laid over the tops of two barrels. They wore what appeared to be aprons of some rough material, probably bath towels. Their sleeves were rolled up to their elbows. On the "counter" stood a variety of bottles and boxes. One of the boys was filling a paper sack with sand, using a small garden trowel. The other was fidgeting with what appeared to be a rude imitation of a cash register on a box, in his hand a piece of paper, which it was not difficult to see was intended to represent money.

In front of the counter a group of little girls, trussed up in a variety of finery, long dresses, shawls and funny looking hats and bonnets. It was also very easy to see that here was a store scene, one proprietor weighing out sugar (sand) the other making change.

But it was the sign stretched across the back near the cash register that caught the eye of the observant bystander. This sign, done on a piece of white card board with crayon read: "Suburban Day Sail-Everything Cheap."

The absurd reasons set forth by some "Letter to the Editor" contributor over the name "A Farmer's Wife," and duly worked up into editorial by an afternoon paper, conveying the thought that Allen county farmers were a decade or so behind the times in order to bolster up a charge that farmers are keeping away from Lima because of the removal of the hitching racks brings smiles to both the up to date farmer and city merchant. The "various reasons" why milk is not churned up into butter and eggs are sold to the huckster man can all be summed up in the one word "financial." The good farmer does not bring milk into town in the form of butter, nor exchange his eggs at the corner grocery for sugar and coffee, because the gentleman who calls upon him who represents the big packers give him good cash. He doesn't need to come town to dabble in butter and eggs, but he does to spend his wealth advantageously, and that is what he does, notwithstanding the protest of the would-be hermit.

A "fat chance" as the plain speaking politician has it, does the citizens have for either butter or eggs with these lecherous packing plants and refrigerator establishments gathering up everything in sight to ship to the fawn-skinned epicureans of the Biltmore, and the St. Regis and the Claridge and the denizens of Newport and Far Rock-away at fabulous prices.

The way to encourage the producers, to bring their products in to sell direct to the consumer is to induce these refrigerating gentlemen to depart for other fields of profiteering usefulness, but as that would seem to be at best but a forlorn hope we shall probably be compelled to depend for our butter and eggs and produce upon the same little shop around the corner who has to regulate his buying and his selling prices by this same stupendous trust that gathers in the cream of the country's offerings and regulates prices therefor all over the broad land.

Growth of Lima

When the original "Town of Lima," was platted, North street and West street indicated the north and west boundaries while Central avenue formed the east line and Ottawa River the south.

Public Square was almost impassable and a ravine ran through it from the north-west corner to the East Market street intersection.

For many years no one dreamed of Lima becoming a city of importance, with thousands of home owners; and nothing has contributed more to this growth during the past twenty years than such institutions as The Allen County Savings & Loan Company, in the Savings Building at the corner of Market and Elizabeth streets.

This Company alone has helped many hundreds of families to become home owners who without such assistance would still be paying rent.

Deposit your money with "The Allen County;" you will not only receive five per cent interest but will help the other fellow to become his own landlord.

SPRINGFIELD, August 13.—Dayton to Springfield in 10 minutes was the speed made by Safety Director James of Dayton, who came here to see the progress of the city meat sale.

Director James wanted to come to Springfield and a pilot friend from Wright field wanted him to see a ball game.

"Can't do it," said James. "Must see that meat sale in Springfield and it will take all afternoon."

"All afternoon nothing," replied the pilot friend. "Let me take you up."

They started from Wright field at 10:15 and landed at Springfield's fair grounds 10 minutes later.

Within five minutes they were at the meat sale.

An Old Fault Finder
An irritable and fault finding disposition is often caused by indigestion. A man with good digestion and bowels that act regularly is usually good natured. When troubled with indigestion or constipation take Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels.

A Chance to Live

THE WEDDING

That was an idea, too—keeping her job for a while. It would solve the vexed problem of contributing to the household expenses and leave a little nestegg that would be all her own and give her a glorious feeling of independence.

She parted from Nena in gay spirits, leaving "the Firebrand" to the little home wedding so soon to be.

On the way home she pondered whether Bernique would be willing to leave her keep on working a little while. It would be such a simple solution to everything.

Logically enough, she felt a shade of disappointment when, broaching the subject that evening, she had nothing to argue. Bernique agreed.

The psychology of Bernard Carroll was the psychology of the average young man placed in similar circumstances.

Four years before, in the first on-sweep of passion and desire to found a home, he would have objected scornfully to the idea of his wife's working in an office. But being thwarted in his purpose by the long wait for marriage, he had, first through necessity and then through habit, relinquished that keanness for husbandhood and fatherhood that had first urged him on. He had grown used to spending on himself and on Annie. His standards of comfort had risen a little. There was a trifle more calculation, a trifle less emotion about him now.

Missed her and Bernie had had to be warned not to "muss" the wedding veil with his bear hugs. Nena took Annie off in a corner and whispered proudly:

"Now, didn't the hired things go off all right, yes? So! I told you! You look grand, Ann! The dress fits perfect. And the veil—Oh, such style! The perfume goes good, too, eh? It's orange flowers guaranteed. I'll tell you after where you can buy it wholesale. It's too bad you got to send the dress back nicer than you got it—all smelling of the extract."

Nena's gift to her friend had been a bottle of scent of exquisite quality bought at the sacrifice of many luncheons. Annie hugged and kissed her and wondered why a tear insisted on rising to her happy eyes.

Everybody had a box of real cake to take home, another of Aunt Maggie's contributions, though the rented masterpiece of white cardboard and enamel "icing," with the bride and groom a-top, had been very impressive and greatly admired. There was a "notice" duly put in the papers. And at last Annie and Bernie in their rented coach drove off to their rented flat, whence after changing their bridal finery for plainer garb, they were to go "on a trip" till Monday morning. Annie chose a boat tour up the Hudson to Albany, and it seemed to her as she stood by the rail with her good-looking young husband beside her that life had indeed kept its promise—at last. How she wished her father could be there to know!

X.—MIXED MOTIVES.

I stifled a shriek of amusement in my serviette. Everyone knows that the man who tells a woman that he understands her is marked by the gods for slaughter. I could scarcely credit John Manning with such a trite remark.

"You're amused, aren't you?" said he with a quiet smile. "You think I'm a patronizing ass. But my dear little girl, I'm a good bit older than you and I've known many women in many lands. You think you're unique—it's the twist that your vanity takes. You are enormously interested in your thought processes which you believe are quite different from anyone's else. You are sure you have that twentieth-century evil, 'temperament,' but not so sure that you fail to cultivate it by artificial applications to your nerves. There are a million other women like you, but your own egotism has assumed such exaggerated proportions that it obscures your vision. You can't see, and you won't believe what other people tell you."

"No other people would be so unpleasant," I cried hotly.

"Certainly not, because the men are infatuated blind fools, and the women who could tell you the truth you would term 'jealous cats.' What

POSTPONED

The reception that was to have been held at the Epworth church on Thursday afternoon has been postponed indefinitely.

Mrs. J. C. Fahry and son, Joseph, of South Elizabeth street, have just returned from a very pleasant visit in Pittsburgh. Mrs. R. L. Gaughan, of Pittsburgh, sister of Mrs. Fahry, accompanied them here to be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Phalen, of South Elizabeth street.

Mrs. Fred Curtiss and daughter, Jean, of West High street, have gone to New Castle, Penna., where they are guests of Mrs. Curtiss' mother, Mrs. E. H. Hill.

think I would risk my neck in a situation that holds the same promise of security as dynamite with a lighter fuse."

"I couldn't resist a chuckle. 'Well I can't help but find the whole affair interesting because it is so unique,' I conceded.

"Shall I tell you your greatest fault, Nell?"

"Please," I said with feigned meekness.

"It is your extraordinary dramatic sense. You try to dramatize all life—the simplest situation, the most casual emotion. And life, little girl, isn't at all dramatic. The forces are so widespread, so attenuated, that only in rare instances are the necessary ingredients combined to produce a dramatic exposition. All the world may be a stage, but most of us are only 'supers' while you, Nell, want to be the star."

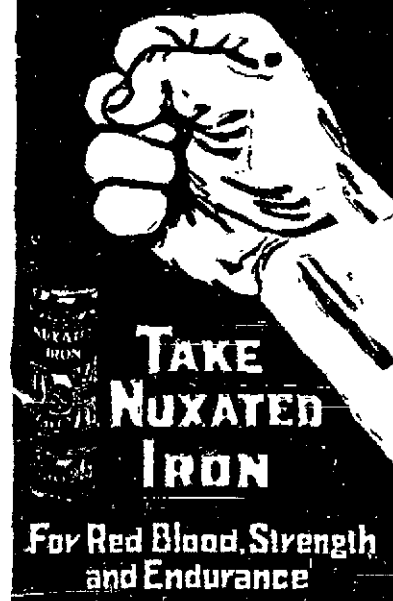

"Well, I hear my cue for an exit now," I laughed as I gathered up my gloves and sunshade. "Thanks for the luncheon, Sir Galahad. I'm not sure whether I've been complimented or just plain damned."

I went out, nodding airily to gossiping acquaintances, John Manning at my elbow.

At the door of the palm room we came face to face with Paul.

INSTITUTIONS IN OHIO SHOW LOSS IN ATTENDANCE

Reduction in Number of Prison Inmates Attributed to Recent War

MORE AT HOSPITALS

No More Cases of Insanity Than Usual, But Facilities Extended

COLUMBUS, August 12.—For the first time since the organization of the board of administration, state penal institutions and hospitals for the insane show a decided falling off in the average daily attendance for the fiscal year ending June 30.

The total average daily attendance of the past year was 22,452 as compared with 23,235 the previous year. At only six of the 12 institutions under control of the board was there a gain in the average daily attendance last year. And of these four were institutions for the insane. The other two were the girls' school at Delaware, which showed a net gain of only 24 and the reformatory for women at Marysville which showed a net gain of 34. The population of the state hospital at Columbus, jumped from 1,845 a year ago to 1,867 this year, and the hospital for the criminal insane at Lima made a net gain of only 10 in the year.

Reduction in Crimes. But the noticeable feature of this average daily attendance is the falling off of population at the penitentiary and at the reformatory at Mansfield. The penitentiary shows a loss of 219 for the year and the reformatory a loss of 114 or a total loss of 333 at the two big penal institutions.

The cause of this decrease in population is directly attributed to the war. There was more industrial activity and with the allurements of active life on the battle front, there was a reduction in crimes. Data has not been completed, but it is said that fully 75 per cent of the new admissions to the penitentiary during the past year were of men beyond the military age limit, while most of those received at Mansfield were below the age limit.

Decrease at Soldiers' Home. Another notable decrease is noted at the Ohio soldiers' and sailors' home, Sandusky, where the population fell from 1,057 to 920, for the first time in many years being below the 1,000 mark. Death has taken many veterans at this institution, and the average daily attendance in the hospital there is larger by far than in previous years.

The state school for the blind shows a falling off of 65 as compared with the previous year or fell from 182 to 117, while the state school for the deaf had a decrease of from 472 to 337. In both cases the war is blamed for the loss, many of the older pupils being kept out of school during the trying days to perform such work as they could at home.

That there was an increase in insane commitments does not indicate that there were more cases of insanity but rather reflects the improvements being made by the board to care for more patients. Changes are still being made which will help to swell this total, as many counties have waiting lists of persons entitled to state aid and treatment who are denied admission because of limited facilities.

REDS AND GIANTS SET FOR STRUGGLE

Men of Moran Arrived in New York in Excellent Condition and Feel Confident

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Well, here, they are, primed and ready and eager for the big test of the baseball campaign. Who are they, Why the Reds, of course, leaders in the National League race who arrived in New York shortly after 6 o'clock last evening after a night and a day on the speedy rail from good old Cincinnati. Full of confidence and the best brand of net-vine as prescribed by Dr. P. J. Moran, the pride of Redland will face the Giants at the Polo grounds tomorrow in the first of a set of three straight double-headers upon the result of which may very likely depend the championship of the league and the right to contend with the American League winners in the world's series in October.

The series of three double-headers on this trip is made necessary by the numerous postponements on the two preceding Eastern journeys of the Reds. On the first trip in May five games were scheduled here but only three were played, rain interfering with the other two. Last month four games were to have been decided, but again the teams ran into bad weather and only one contest could be staged. So that to date the Reds have played only four games on the Polo Grounds out of ten scheduled and they must perform six times in the next three afternoons in order to fill their complement of contests here. Any of the six games which may be postponed this week cannot be decided here, but will have to be transferred to Cincinnati where the Giants make one more stand in September. The Reds arrived in excellent condition, and the boys are not in the least worried about the outcome of the big series. The disastrous Western trip of the Giants, in which they won only five games out of 14, convinced Old Boys that their nearest rivals are far from invincible and they fully expect to retain their present lead, even if they do not add to it.

TWO LEADERS WHO WILL MEET AT POLO GROUNDS TODAY FOR SUPREMACY IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

PAT MORAN

JOHN MCGRAW

Pat Moran, who heads the Redleg aggregation, and Muggsy McGraw, leader of the Giant clan, will vie with each other this afternoon on the Polo grounds. The runners-up to the Reds are hot after them, and New York fans are assuming a very antagonistic attitude.

The clan of McGraw was experienced when the Giants played in Redland recently. Police were sent to guard the Giants in their dugout. Both managements are anticipating trouble this afternoon between Giant supporters and the Reds. This Eastern trip, just started by Moran's men, will be the deciding

FEATURE IS CALLED OFF AT BELMONT

Ante Guy, Who Was to Meet Lu Princeton Today, Suffers Injury, and Match Postponed

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., August 13.—A card of five events was offered for the second day of the Grand Circuit meeting at Belmont track today. The feature was the Bellevue-Stratford hotel stake of $3,000, with a splendid entry, including Busby Lassie, Peter June, Prince Loree, Royal Mac, The Toddler and Wilkes Brewer.

The William Penn stake for two-year-old trotters, purse $2,000, and the 2 13 trot for $1,000, each had eight entries. The free-for-all pace, in which the hotshes are paid at each post of the mile in each heat, was one of the features. There was to have been a match race between the trotters Ante Guy and Lu Princeton, but this was postponed owing to a slight accident to Ante Guy and as an added feature Lu Princeton was to be driven to beat the track record of 2:01 3-4, made last year by St. Frisco.

Grace Direct, the speedy daughter of Walter Direct, won a hollow victory in the $3,000 stake for 2 96 pacers, the feature of the opening day of the third annual Grand Circuit meeting at the Belmont Driving club's track at Narberth today. The race had only three starters and was decided in straight heats.

The 2 13 pace went four heats and finished the best contest of the day. Ed Geers home fast, driven by Ben Walker, won the opening heat, Prince Pepper the second, and Harper the third. The three heat winners met in the fourth heat with Harper the third. The three heat winners met in the fourth heat with which Harper won easily in 2:13 1/2.

The 2 96 trot for the A. B. Mathews cup and a purse of $1,000 furnished good racing. Oscar Warrs took the first heat from Hollywood Kate which got off to a bad start but Dodge's mare easily outclassed the field and captured the next two in close finishes.

The other event was for Philadelphia horses only.

BASEBALL SCOUTS COMBING MINOR LEAGUES FOR PLAYERS

Majors are Looking For Young Performers With View To Bolster Teams for 1920 Season

NEW YORK, August 13.—The "ivory hunters" are making the most of the open season for combing the minor leagues in search of promising young players who will be used to bolster major league teams in 1920.

Big league scouts are snooping about everywhere, and a majority of them are covering more territory than usual because talent of the type demanded by managers in the big league is scarce.

The war kept many a young player out of the game for a season or longer and forced many a minor league club to close its park in 1917 and '18. As a result the minors have scarcely settled down to their former level, and where a league used to be known for its class, it is difficult today to size up a player by judging his showing in a few games.

The scout must know what kind of ball the league is putting up to be able to figure on the class of any one player, even though he may have all the earmarks of a coming star. It is the business of the scout to pick the good ones and shun the lemons, to prevent his employer from spending money on material that needs more seasoning. Hence the work of the scout this year has been more difficult than usual, and he has been forced to look over players with greater care.

Young outfielders who can hit the ball are in great demand. They are scarce as hen's teeth. So are good young shortstops, but good shortstop recruits are always scarce. Pitching material seems to be fairly plentiful, and if reports from the minors have not been exaggerated there will be some crack young pitchers ready for a fling at the big show by the time the spring training season rolls around.

Among the veteran scouts who are so busily engaged in the hunt for talent this year are Dick Kinsella and Artie Devlin, who do the sleuthing for John McGraw, Jimmy Malloy and Otto Knabe are doing service for the Chicago Cubs.

Larry Sutor, the veteran who brought out such players as Zach Wheat and Jake Daubert, is scouting for the Phillies, while Gene McCann is searching for ivory for the Cincinnati Reds.

Charles Barrett is sleuthing for the Cardinals, Bully Murray for the Pirates, Miquie Finn for the Dodgers and Jimmy Turner for the Boston Braves.

Bob Connors, Bob Gilks and Joe Kelly represent the keen-eyed brigade employed by the Yankees, while Ed Walsh, only a few years ago the greatest star of the Chicago Sox, is scouting for Comiskey. Joe Engel is with Washington this year and Ira Thomas is searching the sticks for Connie Mack. Lee Fohl until recently manager of the Indians, is now doing scouting duty for Jim Dunn along with Bob McAllister.

Detroit has Bill Sullivan and Bill Doyle. Boston has Hugh Duffy and Ed Holl, and Bobby Quinn and old Joe Shagin veteran among veteran catchers are the "star" hunters for the St. Louis Browns.

CINCY SIGNS PAT DUNCAN

Pat Duncan, outfielder late of the Southern League, yesterday morning stepped into Garry Hermann's office in Redland, and placed his John Hancock on a contract to cavort around an outfield for the Reds.

Pat Moran recently purchased Duncan from Birmingham, Southern League. Duncan left Cincinnati last evening and will join his new teammates in city of McGraw today. He is expected to do considerable toward bolstering up the Red Outfield.

THROUGH THE SPORTOSCOPE

The shot that will be heard all around Phandom will be fired on the Polo Grounds today.

Here's hoping the men of Moran will take the egotism out of those Manhattan fans by walloping the Giants twice in the same place.

In order to keep their hold on the top rung of the ladder, the Redlegs must win two of the six games scheduled with the McGraw Clan.

Moran will not let any of his men drink the ordinary water at the bench today.

If he would get in good with the team he should have a forum of old 2:75 on the bench.

Saith the Sage of Hawk Creek: "A White lie has often resulted in a black deed."

The Tigers stepped up another hitch on the ladder yesterday when they whipped the Athletics.

The Yankees' brakes refused to work and they are headed in the downward course.

The Indians took the series from the Gothamites.

Jess Barnes yesterday won his tenth consecutive victory thus equaling the season's record.

Shocker was everything his name implies, and yesterday defeated Boston, 10 to 3.

JACK DUNN PLANNING TO STOP DRAFTING

Does Not Propose to Lose His Players By Draft Robbery Process

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 13.—Jack Dunn is the first international manager to put up the bars to keep the majors from drafting his players.

The National League has contended that the ten-day notice clause in the minor league contract was not legal and undoubtedly they are right in the assertion so Dunn yesterday signed twelve players for 1920 with ironclad contracts with the ten-day clause omitted. This means that the majors can only draft any one of the twelve players signed under penalty of legal redress by Dunn, which handicap they would not care to assume.

Dunn figures that he has a fine crop of young players, about $75,000, none of which he intends to lose by the draft robbery process.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Ted (Kid) Lewis former welterweight champion, matched to meet Johnny (Kid) Al-berts, of Elizabeth, N. J., at the Bayonne A. A. of Bayonne, N. J., on Tuesday evening, August 19.

Johnny Buff, the promising bantam-weight of Jersey City, is signed up for three fights. On August 23 he meets Battling Leonard for 6 rounds at the National A. C. of Philadelphia; August 25 he tackles Frankie Mason, of Ft. Wayne, at Oriole Park, Baltimore and August 28 he faces Patk Wallace, of Philadelphia, at the Armory A. A. of Jersey City.

Loc Leonard, the husky little Brooklyn fighter, is booked up for two more scraps. On Monday night at New Orleans, he will take on Kid Coster, the New Orleans bantam, for 15 rounds, and on Labor Day will go against Joe Currie, of Connecticut, for 12 rounds at Newport, R. I.

Johnny Clinton, the local lightweight has been matched to meet Frankie "Young" Britt, the sturdy fighter, of New Bedford, Mass., in a 12 round bout to a decision at the Mercury A. C. of New Bedford, Mass., on Friday night.

Two ten-round bouts have been clinched by Tom Andrews, the Milwaukee fight promoter, to be fought at the boxing show of his Cream City A. C. Milwaukee, on Friday night. In the first, Ray Rivers will thump up with Young Dennis, a western fighter, while in the star bout Pete Herman, bantamweight champion, will take on Jack Sharkey, who is now stopping at Detroit.

OLD TIMER DEAD

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., Aug. 13.—Samuel H. (Butch) Jones, widely known in baseball circles and formerly one of the owners of the Philadelphia American League Club, died Tuesday. He was 67 years old. Mr. Jones spent 29 years in the services of press associations, retiring from the Philadelphia office of the Associated Press in 1906 to take an active interest in the Philadelphia Athletics.

REDS ARE AFTER ELMER MILLER

CINCINNATI, Aug. 13.—The Cincinnati club has offered $12,000 to St. Paul for Outfielder Elmer Miller, who used to be with the Yankees.

Miller Huggins recommended this player to the Reds last winter, and he could have been obtained at that time for a small sum, but it was not believed that he would be needed.

MASON DEFEATS JOHNNY ESTLE

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 13.—Frankie Mason of Port Wayne won all the way over Johnny Estle of St. Paul in an interesting fifteen round battle to a referee's decision Monday. Mason was too fast and clever for Estle, who took a bad beating. Estle landed only at infrequent intervals and his best was a left hook to the head. Mason, after the first couple of rounds, which he used up studying his opponent, was the aggressor all the way.

ALL BOND ISSUES ARE DEFEATED IN LIMA

LIGHT VOTE CAST, FEW CONTESTS AT CITY PRIMARY

Electric Light Bonds Fail to Get Necessary Two-Thirds of Ballots

FOSTER IS BEATEN

Less Than One-Fourth of Registration Turns Out to Polls Tuesday

Members of the two political parties in Lima yesterday selected their standard bearers for the race to be staged November 11, when municipal offices will be filled and members of the school board elected. However, the voters yesterday denounced the six bond issues for city improvements and a municipal lighting system submitted to them.

Less than 25 per cent of the number registered voted yesterday. Of more than 7,000 names registered there were only 1,547 voted, according to the number of votes polled for the heads of the parties.

Frank A. Burkhardt will head the Democratic ticket for mayor. He will be opposed by John A. Harley, Republican. Burkhardt yesterday received 738 votes, while Harley got 809.

Close Race
Probably the closest race of the entire contest was the one between R. R. Trubey and Clement Ohler for Judge of the Criminal Court. Trubey won out over his opponent by sixteen votes. The winner received 462 votes while Ohler was given 386.

The race between Calvin Selfridge and Elmer McClain for Solicitor, was also hotly contested. McClain, the winner was voted for to the extent of 437, while Selfridge received 414 votes.

Ellis O. Jones, of the Fourth Ward, brought out by the Citizens' Committee to defeat E. R. Foster, present incumbent, was successful. Jones received 159 votes for councilman against 72 secured by Foster.

Dr. George Hall beat George R. Muntis, for councilman from the Third Ward. The Citizens' Committee also waged the fight against Muntis, for actions supposed to have been taken by him in the recent controversy over the Lima Natural Gas Company's ready-to-serve charge.

Fred Calvert, James Jolly and Herbert Thomas were successful candidates for the nomination as members of the school board on the Republican ticket. Ralph Austin and Joseph Dexter were defeated for the nomination. S. A. Plummer and E. D. Arnold, the only two Democrats out for this will run against the three Republicans in the November election.

Councilmen-at-Large
Fred Snyder, present councilman at large, and candidate for re-election was handed a jolt. Thomas Berry, however, defeated the ends of the Citizens' Committee and won his nomination. The other two Republicans nominated for this office were Harry Altschul and Harry Hopper. They will have to defeat E. L. Harrod, J. A. Haegs and J. N. Herbolzheimer, Democrats, in the November election, if they desire to enact the laws of this city.

None of the six bond issues won. All were very close. The fight which created the most interest was the municipal lighting system. The Ohio Electric Railway Company was against the project while the Citizens' Committee fought for it. A very torrid advertising campaign was waged by both sides, but that of the committee was in vain.

The race, however, was exceedingly close, as had twenty-two additional persons voted for the project, it would have carried. In order for the project to carry it was necessary for two-thirds of the total votes cast to be for it. There were for the municipal lighting system, 1193 votes, while there were 630 against it.

Unofficial Figures.
Following are the totals of candidates and bond issues, according to an unofficial count of the ballots, made public this morning by the board of elections:

Democrats—Frank A. Burkhardt, 738; Henry McCready, 622; W. E. Courtad, 647; L. W. Morrison, 228; Elmer McClain, 437; Calvin Selfridge, 414; E. L. Harrod, 611; J. A. Haegs, 536; J. N. Herbolzheimer, 525; P. E. Killian, 49; Joseph Goebel, 217; J. W. Reed, 70; R. I. Miller, 176; C. P. Morcy, 36; J. F. Bronner, 34; Emmett Jackson, 712; S. A. Plummer, 693; E. D. Arnold, 228; R. M. "Gold Fish" Are High in Police Court Just Now

It will certainly behoove Prosecutor John Cable to investigate Police Judge Ernest Botkin, for that official is surely charging exorbitant prices for foodstuffs. No, the judge is not going into the grocery business, but he did charge Tom Jones, 33, Lima, R. R. 1, an awful price for two cans of salmon this morning. Tom was arrested in the Deisel store by Patrolman Ward Taylor, after the management had charged Jones with stealing two cans of "gold fish." Jones had the "army special" on his person when arrested, police say.

He was taken to police headquarters, and when searched it was discovered he had $115.92 in cash on him. Policemen around the station looked, put their tongues in their jaw, and shook their heads.

After being registered, Jones was presented in police court, and he pleaded guilty. Now here's the business of profiteering. Said Judge Botkin, very slowly:

"Thomas, those two cans of salmon will cost you $25 in this court, and Thomas, remember, you can't eat that fish until you have paid the Deisel store the purchase price."

That fine evidently took Tom's appetite, for he didn't purchase the fish. Instead he looked around to discover the reporters on the job and unsuccessfully persuaded them to leave his name out of the paper.

Now, after taking all things into consideration, it's a pretty sure bet Jones never served a "hitch" in the army in France. For if he had he certainly would not have gotten within ten feet of the "gold fish."

Brotherhood, 493; Doyle Marshall, 32; J. W. Sherry, 527.

The republican party follows:
John A. Harley, 809; W. J. Dempster, 702; D. L. Rupert, 753; J. F. Jones, 764; H. E. Garling, 754; Harry Altschul, 470; T. M. Berry, 150; Harry Hopper, 591; Fred Snyder, 108; William Tierney, 79; W. B. Conrad, 131; Dr. George Hall, 92; George R. Muntis, 28; Ellis Jones, 139; E. R. Foster, 73; G. W. Schuler, 72; Harry J. Brice, 76; R. R. Trubey, 462; Clement Ohler, 386; Fred Calvert, 702; James Jolly, 613; Herbert Thomas, 702; Ralph Austin, 427; Joseph Dexter, 311; J. H. Hamilton, 738; J. F. Emaus, 596; Ira Snyder, 630; Charles Plock, 590.

Bond Issue Vote.
The $183,000 bond issue for Ottawa river improvements was voted upon, 987 for, 817 against; Main street improvements, $88,000 bond, 1,116 for, 621 against; $65,000 sidewalk improvement, 872 for, 807 against; $12,000 North Shore Drive improvements, 801 for, 901 against; $112,000 for bridges, 1,042 for, 689 against; $100,000 municipal lighting system, 1,193 for, 630 against.

City officials today stated it is not likely city council will issue the $100,000 municipal lighting system bonds, as it will be necessary to pay interest out of the city's operating expenses. It is hard for the city to keep its head above the water now, City Auditor Rupert this morning stated, owing to the fact that the loss of saloon revenue took away approximately $35,000 per year from the operating expense.

H. O. ROCKWELL IS STRICKEN BY DEATH

Just a few minutes after he arrived at work at the room formerly occupied by the South Side Buildings and Loan, on South Main street, and which is now being repaired for the Ohio Dairy company, H. O. Brockwell, 60 years of age, carpenter was stricken with acute indigestion about 7 o'clock this morning and fell to the floor. Workmen called the Eckert ambulance, and he was taken to the City hospital, where he died a few minutes after arrival.

The deceased had been employed for some time as a carpenter for Smith & Sherrick, contractors. He lives at 297 East Vine street. Besides the widow two sons and a daughter survive him. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

DECOY LETTER IS RECEIVED BY MAN WHO WAS ROBBED

A new development in the robbery of the home of Jake Ward, Harrod, was discovered this morning by police when it was ascertained that Ward just prior to the robbery received a letter calling him to Lima. The letter, it was ascertained was a decoy.

Ward suspecting something, paid no attention to the decoy, but later left his home to visit a neighbor. It was while he was away that his home was entered and $128 and a gold watch was taken. Police are investigating the matter, but as yet no definite clue to the perpetrators of the theft has been secured.

The letter, which was dated Friday, August 8, 1919, was written on stationery of the Manhattan Hotel, and is as follows:

Lima, Ohio, August 8, 1919.
"Mr. Jack Ward, Harrod, O.
"Dear Sir:—I have some very important business to see you and your sister about, in regard to some land. I will be at the Manhattan Hotel until Sunday a. m. Can you come up Saturday between 3 and 4 o'clock.

NEGOTIATIONS ARE ON BETWEEN O. E. AND ITS TRAINMEN

No Ultimatum Has Been Delivered By Carmen In Lima Up to Present

MEET AT SPRINGFIELD

Twenty-Four Hours Notice to Be Given Before Strike Begins

Negotiations between the trainmen and officials of the Ohio Electric Railway Company are taking place over the entire system today, according to advices received here this afternoon. However, up to a late hour today, local officials of the company have received no ultimatum from the carmen. It was anticipated the local workers would present this ultimatum yesterday afternoon.

Resident Manager J. B. Dugan, today stated, it is very probable some word from the carmen of the city lines and this division will be received this evening. Indications are the men will not effect their walkout tomorrow, as they have stated, the public will be given at least twenty-four hours notice before the strike occurs.

Meet at Springfield
It is understood, a conference between officials of the company and employees is taking place in Springfield, and hopes for an amicable settlement are being entertained by the men. Local officials refuse to state what steps they will take if a walkout should become effective.

According to information received here this afternoon from James L. Lary, special organizer for the Amalgamated Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, the men's decision to strike if the company will not recede from its refusal to meet their demands was handed to the company's officials late yesterday afternoon.

Will Give Notice

Mr. Lary said the company will be given a reasonable time to accede to the demands of the men. He also stated, in the event a strike order is issued the public will be given a twenty-four hours' notice. He refused to state the nature of the negotiations taking place today, but indicated that a move of some kind is being considered which may bring about a settlement between the trainmen and the officials.

It was understood about Lima, this morning, that trainmen employed on the Fort Wayne-Lima Division of the Ohio Electric Railway company walked out last night. However, no information concerning this can be gathered here, and officials of the company declare they know nothing about it.
